“What I love about SSND is our shared life in mission, where prayer, community life, and ministry are part of the whole of our lives. We are called daily to embody Christ’s love, to care for the “other,” especially the marginalized, and to transform lives through education, all to bring about the oneness for which Jesus Christ was sent. Vocation discernment is a process that takes time, prayer, involves others, explores deep questions, and calls for deepening trust. Ultimately, my heart found a home with SSND, and I am grateful. “
